All locations sunrise to sunset (times vary by season) are within easy walking distance of your vehicle — no strenuous hikes or difficult trails to navigate. Except for the wide mountain vistas seen from Clingman’s Dome, Morton’s Overlook, and Foothills Parkway West, our subjects include a wide variety of wild flowers and mountain foliage, a wonderful selection of mountain streams, creeks, and rivers, and a few lovely water falls. In addition, deer, bear, coyote, and fox are often seen early morning in Cades Cove.

The shooting schedule avoids crowds as much as possible; carpooling will be used to facilitate easy movement from location to location. Also, I reserve the option to alter the schedule on the spot if either weather or ground conditions warrant.

The tuition for this Workshop is $650.00 per person for the 4.5 days. You are responsible for travel, food, lodging, and miscellaneous expenses.

I use the Econolodge in Townsend, TN and the Microtel Inn in Gatlinburg, TN: however, there are many other hotels, motels, and campgrounds in both locations. Expect all the one-on-one attention you may need in all phases of photography. Also, I occasionally will be shooting right along with you demonstrating the techniques I use with my own work.

Weather is usually not a factor in the Smokies. Clouds and rain can produce stunning, richly colored images. In addition, you can also learn how to handle the deep shadows and pronounced contrast resulting from mid-day, cloudless skies. As the date of the Workshop approaches, I will advise everyone of the appropriate clothing.
